1 Letter dated 6th August 1932 from Mr S. Venkataramanayya, Pleader and Inamdar, Ramakrishna Vilas, Bangalore city, requesting that his cash and land endowments to the Sri Ramakrishna Ashrama Bangalore, may be transferred to the Ramakrishna Paramahamsa Trust Board in the Compound of and behind the Anjaneya temple, at Ramakrishnapuram, Shankarapuram Taluk.

Submitted for orders, with the previous references quoted in the letter. It is a point for consideration whether Mr Venkataramanayya's request can be complied with as by the deed making the original gift, he has transferred all proprietary right to the endowments, and the income from these endowments should be continued to be paid to the Bangalore institution so long as Govt are not authorised

GENERAL & REVENUE SECRETARIAT No. Law

Returned with compliments.

Mr. G. Venkatramania has mentioned in his petition that he has made cash endowments from time to time and the Law Section wanted these documents to be sent for and put up for reference. The Muzrai Commissioner sent a copy of one document as the original was not available and nothing is said about the documents relating to the other endowments. The copy now sent relates only to the deposit of Rs.1,000/- made about April 1917. According to this deed the Donor undertakes (1) not to withdraw or demand the return of the amount from Government; (2) not to use or apply the interest to any other purpose except with the assent or approval of Government and agrees in para 3 that interest may be with-held by Government under certain conditions until a scheme of management is submitted to the satisfaction of Government by him or his heirs etc., These terms in the Deed seem to give power to the Donor to change the charitable purpose and what is required is the consent of Government. It is necessary to know definitely what the conditions of the other endowments are. Those documents ~~xxx~~ may also be kindly obtained and put up for reference.

As regards the cash endowment of Rs 10000/- for which there is a document executed, Mr. Venkataramia does not now want the beneficiary to be changed.

As regards the balance of the endowment of Rs 2312-8-0, the Govt orders of 10/1/22 and 11/8/22 read with Mr Venkataramia's letters of 15-11-21 and 6th July 1922, clearly create a trust in favour of the objects specified therein and duly accepted by Govt. Both the G.Os have been sent to the Presiding Swami of Ramakrishna Mutt. A charitable endowment thus created, unless otherwise specifically provided for, is I think irrevocable in law and the beneficiary concerned can have an action to see that his rights are not interfered with even by the donor - The mere fact that the securities still stand in the name of the donor does not improve matters - The donor himself may be the trustee, but cannot, after a trust is duly created, exercise any greater powers as a trustee than if he were not the donor - The objects of a charitable trust can be altered only if object originally specified fails, in which case the doctrine of cypres applies - It is rather difficult to say that in this case the objects have failed - change it and utilise the interest on this amount for the Parnasala which he has newly constructed, if Government agree.

46 With respect to the other amount of Rs.2,312-8-0, there seems to be no Mutchalika executed by him; but the applications by him clearly make out that it was meant for the benefit of the Ramakrishna Ashrama in Bangalore. No reservations are made in this connection as with the cash deposit of Rs.1,000/-. Mr. Venkataramaniah does not seem to be competent to divert this income for any other purpose. If he is anxious to make some provision for his Parnasala, the interest on the first endowment of Rs.1,900/- may be utilised for the benefit of the Institution. The matter may be considered by Government if Mr. Venkataramaniah agrees to this course.
